

Welcome from Lynnette Madsen

NSF Ceramics
Principal Investigator Workshop

ACerS & NSF

Welcome!

Thanks for taking the time,
trouble & resources
to be here!

Many THANKS to the American Ceramic Society for their considerable efforts to put this 2-day workshop in place!

History & Thoughts

- What could I do for the Ceramics community?
- PI workshops have not been the norm in DMR; could the Ceramics community benefit from an annual workshop?
- Have $\sim\frac{1}{4}$ of PIs each year, volunteer basis (optional attendance)
- PURPOSES: Inform CER PIs about NSF (policies, procedures, practices, opportunities, etc.), Network community, Bring new information, Receive feedback, etc.

NSF JAM12 "Broadening Participation Research"

Unfortunately, pre-registration to JAM12 has closed. However, you are welcome to join us at the Washington Hilton to register onsite. Please read further for more details.

On behalf of the National Science Foundation (NSF), we are pleased to welcome you to the 2012 Joint Annual Meeting (JAM) of awardees funded by the Directorate for Education and Human Resource's Division of Human Resource Development.

The theme for this year's JAM is Broadening Participation Research (BPR). The following outcomes are expected as a result of this meeting:

- Outcome 1: The Directorate for Education and Human Resources' (EHR), and the Division of Human Resource Development's, R&D Core will be transformed to integrate Broadening Participation

Feedback from YOU is Welcome

- Pre-workshop survey helped to improve this workshop's sessions
- PI Workshop needed? Welcome event?
- Overall format (location, duration, focus)
- Balance of presentations, posters & exercises
- Ideas for session topics
- Most/least informative sessions/speakers
- Ideas about how to improve slides
- Thoughts about logistics, food & beverages
- Please complete post-workshop survey for 2013 workshop: – contact Greg Geiger (ggeiger@ceramics.org) if you attended, or send remarks directly to either Greg or Lynnette Madsen (lmadsen@nsf.gov)

Next Year

- Tentatively: noon June 24 to noon June26, 2013
- DC / Northern VA area
- Registration fee: If you are a PI or co-PI and cannot afford to attend, you may submit a supplemental request on your award
- As in past years, registration will be open initially only to PIs/co-PIs and then closer to the date, available slots will open to other researchers
