Showcase your organization at the world's most preeminent exhibition.

The American Ceramic Society invites your company to exhibit at the 38th International Conference on Advanced Ceramics & Composites (ICACC'14), considered THE conference of choice for individuals within the advanced ceramics and composites communities. A focal point of the conference, the ICACC Exposition is the most effective and efficient place to connect with business partners, develop prospects and explore new business opportunities — all in one place at one time.

Why Should Your Company Exhibit at ICACC'14?

- ICACC attracts people from more than 30 countries around the world. While 55 percent of the attendees are from the United States, the Expo enables you to interact with large contingents of scientists and engineers from Europe and Asia.
- The ICACC Expo is unique — At least 85 percent of conference attendees visit the Expo Hall on either Tuesday or Wednesday evening.
