PUBLISHING ICACC PRESENTATIONS

Answering your need to publish the work you present at ICACC 2019 in peer-reviewed, indexed publications, The American Ceramic Society is proud to present two journals for your consideration. Please note that no proceedings will be published for ICACC 2019.

Where should you submit your ICACC manuscript?

International Journal of Applied Ceramic Technology

The International Journal of Applied Ceramic Technology (ACT) is devoted to development and commercialization of engineered ceramics products and processes moving ceramics from the lab to the production floor.

Submit your manuscript to ACT for:

- Characterization of advanced ceramics, composites and ceramic based components, systems and devices
- Performance optimization, integration, design and testing, databases, and cost models
- Addressing barriers to commercialization, environmental health issues, international standardization activities

International Journal of Ceramic Engineering & Science

The International Journal of Ceramic Engineering and Science (IJCES) is a new Gold Open Access journal with a broad topical scope and thoroughness of methods and analysis as the key acceptance criteria.

Submit your manuscript to IJCES for:

- Meeting funding agency requirements for publication in Gold OA journals
- Topics outside of the scope of ACT
- Engineering and science advances at all stages of ceramic and glass research and application, including the reporting of interim findings or “work in progress”

The American Ceramic Society and Wiley are teaming up to underwrite a significant portion of the IJCES OA article processing charges (APCs)*. The authors of the first 25 manuscripts from ICACC accepted into IJCES this year will have their APCs reduced to $100. The next 20 manuscripts will have 50% of their APCs waived. Subsequently accepted manuscripts will enjoy the membership discount of 20%.

 Authors from countries or institutions having prior arrangements with Wiley may have their APCs waived completely. See <https://authorservices.wiley.com/author-resources/Journal-Authors/open-access/article-publication-charges.html> for more information about these programs.*
