Dear:

On behalf of the Board of Directors of The American Ceramic Society (ACerS), I wish to invite you to attend the 2024 Glass & Optical Materials Division Annual Meeting (GOMD 2024), May 19 - 23, 2024 at the Golden Nugget, Las Vegas, Nevada, USA.

Sessions led by technical leaders from industry, national laboratories, and academia will provide an open forum for glass scientists and engineers from around the world to present and exchange findings on recent advances in various aspects related to glass science and technology. Over 350 presentations are anticipated.

Registration information, hotel and the advance program are available at <https://ceramics.org/event/2024-glass-optical-materials-division-annual-meeting-gomd-2024/>.

I regret that The American Ceramic Society cannot provide financial assistance to any attendees, except to offer the special reduced Member registration fee. You may contact ACerS staff member Karen McCurdy (kmccurdy@ceramics.org) with any conference related questions.

I sincerely hope to see you at the 2024 Glass & Optical Materials Division Annual Meeting in Las Vegas.

Sincerely,

Mark Mecklenborg, Executive Director
The American Ceramic Society
